Our offices are based in Ellesmere and Oswestry, and our excellent reputation is based on the great service we provide

- Whilst it is true that most firms of solicitors offer broadly the same range of services, not all offer the same standard of service.
- We believe the key to excellent service is to look after our clients and provide a personal approach.
- We offer our clients a fair price for a good service.
- Both offices are in towns within a large rural community and have a strong agricultural base.
- We have a substantial established client base and we frequently act for several generations of the same family, and do a lot of work for local businesses.
- We want a client to feel welcome and confident that his or her legal affairs will be dealt with in an efficient, effective, business-like and competent manner.

The Work of the Firm

The firm can be described as a general practice in that most aspects of legal work are dealt with, although we do not deal with criminal law and do not offer legal aid. We aim to offer a bespoke service within our practice areas, tailored to a client's individual needs.

Conveyancing

We cover residential, commercial and agricultural property – buying, selling and remortgaging. We act for a broad range of clients, from first-time buyers to property developers

Wills, Powers of Attorney and Probate

We have particular expertise in estate planning, lifetime transfers, residential care, powers of attorney and dealing with someone's affairs after their death

Litigation and Personal Injury

Two of our partners are specialists in both general litigation and complex personal injury claims, and conduct a wide range of litigation for clients

Employment & Businesses

We act for both employees and businesses and focus on sound commercial advice to suit the individual needs of the particular client

Family Law

Separation is one of the most stressful times of a client's life and we provide advice in a practical and realistic manner.
